Discussion Questions

1. Can you think of a riddle to share?
2. Why are riddles so difficult to understand? Why would they be used in wisdom literature?
3. Of all the riddles here, which one did you find the most challenging to understand? Which one did you find the most interesting?
4. How do you apply the truth that some things are never satisfied?
5. How do you apply the truth that some things are beyond your comprehension? Talk about a time when you were completely in awe of God or God's works.
6. How do you apply the truth that some people are intolerable? What might Agur be suggesting that we do here?
7. When is it better to have wisdom rather than strength? Can you think some examples?
8. In what circumstances would you need a confident walk?
9. How can you prevent confidence from turning into arrogance?
10. What other insights did you gain from reading and thinking about this passage?
